District Attorney Findall was called by the defence, and testified to having paid witnesses from New Mexico millage both ways, and per diem while here, and family expenses while absent, pursuant to an arrangement of Mni ister Letcher, and with the approval of the President, viz.: Aguillar $410, Toque $1,470, Wright $830, Navarro (expenses of himself and clerk) $492.

Marshal Wallack testified that he, last September, paid Wright $199, N. E. Smith $61; and in the December term, Jones $211. Wright $174, Bower $174, Lewis $189; also their per diem for the present term.

John Charles Gardner was called, and testified to having visited Laquinillas in November, 1851, and obtained the copy of George A. Gardner's title deed. [Shown to witness and identified.] Saw the alcade sign it. He also identified a copy of a petition to the alcade in the witness's own, hand requesting said copy; went to Rio Verde in the same month, and procured the certificate of the prefect to the deed, (which was shown to witness and identified.) He first visited the city of Rio Verde in the latter part of 1845; again in the middle of 1846; next in the summer of 1846; then in September of the same year; next, passed through Rio Verde in the latter part of November. 1846. He recollected it because Santa Anna had prohibited any person leaving that place without a passport from himself. [Witness' passport, dated November, was shown and identified.] He learned dentiary in Havana, and practised it In various parts of Maxice. Was in Guanajuato hörst jin September and October of 1844, and again in the fall of 1845. He identified letters received there, addressed to John C. Gardorn, dated and postmarked, Vera Cruz, Angust, 1846, [His sign there, inscribed "J. C. Gardner, Crujano Dentista," was shown and identified.] Thence went to Gauda hiars, and practised dentistry with his brother's license; while there performed the operation on a lady which witnesses for the United States had attributed to George A. Gardner; stopped two weeks at Guadalajara; then,

General John Loughborough, of Missouri, has obtained the post of Surveyor General of the land district embraced within the limits of the States of Missouri and Illiaois. There were many competitors for the position. The selection is believed to be a good one; a better selection for the public interest than might have been expected from the nature of the contest for the place. His appointment, was determined on in Cabinet council yesterday, and his commission was issued to day.

The principal appointments for the interior of New York were also discussed yesterday in Cabinet council, though no conclusion was reached in any one case. So far, the only interior of New York appointments which have been agreed on are those of the Marahal of the Northern district (Motte) and the District Attorney for the same district, (ex-Senator Heary A. Foster, of Rome,) of which I have heretofore written you. Foster's appointment has certainly given the many softs who are still here looking after those matters his of the blues. However, they get disheartened without cause, for the President is well aware that, to fill those offices, wherein incumbents are thrown much in contact with the people, with gentlemen secretly hostile to the ermanency of the union of the party there, on Secretary Marcy's terms, will be death to the democracy's hope of carrying either New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Ohio, or Wisconsin, in the next Presidential election, which is not to be among things possible, if the administration here drive in wedges to encourage the pedicy of applitung the harmonious in the Empire State again into baraburner and hunker factions.

Among the last batch of removals from the Position of their members of Congress, nearly all of whom have been laboring to prevent the removal of their whigh conditions and these of things responsible for

It is supposed around town that Dr. Frailey's promotion to the chief clerk of the Generi I and Office was any thing but agreeable to Commissioner Wilson. I know not on what data, however.

The new administration are believed to have been quite as unsuccessful as the old in the matter of obtaining from Mr. Latchett, of New York, the papers in the cases of more than three hundred alleged frauds on the Pension Office, in obtaining bounty land warrants, (principally under the law of September 28, 1860.) which were put into his hands for investigation prior to commencing prosecutions on them. Secretary Stuart did his best to get them back through Commissioner Heath, but in vain; as Latchett is said to demand $10,000 as a tee for his services, a 'ready rendered, before he will restore them. His attitude can hardly fail to defeat all hops that the government can eventually prosecute either of these cases, the evidence in all of them being in his hands.

hope that the government can eventually prosecute either of these cases, the evidence in all of them being in his hands.

The deputation of managers from Brooklyn have left Washington apparently very indignant because the Secretary of the Navy failed at once to make a clean sweep of every thing like a Whig master-workman from the Brooklyn yard, though in four or five cases he is said to have a commodated them. According to the story of an old gentleman named Hardenburg, who has been the master-cooper of the Brooklyn yard ever since Mr. Monroe's time, Secretary Dobbin would probably have gone further in their work but for the fact that they overdid their matters—having included him on the list of the sentence to official death, though he had been a consistent democratic party man all his life, and carried on his person marks of the manacles worn by him when a prisoner to the British during the war of 1812. The successor these irresponsible dispensers of the patronage of the Navy Department urged in his place was a young man who had been brought up by the incumbent, to whom he owed everything but the credit of bringing one into life who would take an office under such circumstances. Hardenburg says that his timely arrival here, and goed luck in obtaining promptly an interview with the Secretary, alone saved his head from the block.

The cabinet hold no session to day.

The brother of the Hon. Mr. Burt of South Carolina, Francie Burt, Equ., who has been appointed third auditor, will enter on the discharg of his official duties on Monday.

Sciences of Government Clerks—The New Classification.

[From the Washington Intelligencer.]

For some two years past the subject of salaries for clerks in the executive departments has engaged considerable attention in Congress and among persons interested in the amount of compensation they should receive. The inactionary of the pay authorised by law to ensure and reward efficient service, and enable the recipients to support families at the seat of government, in many cases, was generally acknowledged; but to mature an equitable system of reward, apportioned to the service, required time and much deliberation. Hence Congress, at the seating of 1851 and '62, authorized a temporary programment of 1851 and '62, authorized a temporary programment of the service of Mr. Hunter, the able and second of the service of Mr. Hunter of the service of the s plematic Appropriation bill for resumnising and clearity, ing the clerks in the several offices of the Treasury, War, May, and Post Office departments, and the offices of the Secretary of the In-zier, Commissioner of Pensions, Commissioner of Public Lands, and Commissioner of Public Lands, and Commissioner of Public Lands, and Commissioner of Public Pands of Candidates of the lat of July sext, and requires an examination, by a board to be selected for that purpose, of candidates for clerkships before they can be appointed. The bill authorises for the offices enumerated:—

120 manual expense for salaries of $922,800, or an average of $1,290 63.

The present clerical force in these offices (omitting extra clerks and clerks in the Patent Office, who are paid by the folio) numbers 772, and their aggregate salaries amount to $605,894 66, or an average of $1,173 43. Their compensation for the current fiscal year, including the per centage on salaries authorized by act of 1852, amounts to $1,041,103 93, or an average of $1,348 58.

The new bill, therefore, involves a reduction of fifty-seven clerks, and an aggregate increase of xponse to the government over the present established salaries of $16,905 33%, and angaverage increase of individual salaries of $117 20. The aggregate expense under the new organization will be $118,303 93 less, and the average compensation to each clerk $147 95 less than for the current fiscal year, including the temporary pro rata increase.

The effect of the new classification will be to increase

MEETING OF THE NEW YORK PRINTERS CO-OPERATIVE UNION.

An adjourned meeting of the members of this association was held at Chatham Hall last evening. The attent ance was vary good.

Messrs Cook, England, Davis, and Smith—the elected officers of the Union—were present. Mr. Cook took the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The CHAIRMAN reported from the committee appointed to confer with the employers.

Mr. BaGLEY submitted that the same committee be sgain empowered to act on behalf of the Union, at the next meeting of the employers.

Mr. England was compelled to decline, owing to the increased amount of duty which accumulated on him as Secretary. He was excussed, as also Mr. Davis. Measurs. Eagley and Loursberry were substituted by accdamation. Mr. Bayley—are no end of the members of the committee now appointed to confer with the employers, I would wish to ask a question of the meeting, through you as to how I am to act. It is simply this—how I am to act upon the question of "an abatement, or no abatement," if such should be originated" (Cries of "No abatement," if such should be originated" (Cries of "No abatement,")

Mr. Marshall—Mr. President and gentlemen, I would wish to say, with reference to this part of the subject, that I am aware the advance would have been given now in two offices, but that the men are not united in opinion as to the expediency of the move from $11 to $12 a week. Upon this point, I think, there is some difference of opinion, and but for its existence Mr. R. Bowen, of Pearl street, would have given the advance. As an individual, I advise no meving from the thirty and thirty-three cents agreed upon. By this scale a man earns, upon six theusand a day, only eighteen cents more, or 108 cents increase in a week. This he has to do by his own industry and will. Now, sir, I am aware that a leading newspaper has had inquiries made at all our chief hotels, in order to find out the advance has two own industry and will. Now, sir, I am aware that a leading newspaper has had inquiries made at all our chief hotels, in order to be forwarded by their delegate to the National Printers' Union. Several were returned signed, and with subscriptions for the defraying of the delegate's expenses.

Mr. Exrt and others made remarks upon the seeming apathy of the journeymen.

Mr. Barley offered a resolution to the effect that the name of the society be changed to that of the "New York Book and Job Printers' Union." It was ordered to be laid on the table.

Mr. Samh read the constitution of the National Printers' Union, and moved that this Union expresses its approbation of the constitution of the National Typographical Union, and agrees to be governed by its rules and regulations. Carried.

Upon motion of Mr. Bayley a sum of $5 was appropriated to be handed to the delegates to pay the charter fee, if the National Union should grant it a charter.

Thirty seven new members paid their fees and were admitted.

It was resolved, that the Board of Delegates meet upon Wednesday evening.

Messrs. Lee, Kent, and Brammel, were appointed a committee to report upon a suitable room for permanent meetings.

B. It was resolved that the meeting of delegates be duly advertised in the New York Herald.

The Secretary announced that $19 77 had been subscribed towards the Fittsburg delegation fund.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Recreaty abnounced that $19.77 had been subscribed forwards the rittsburg delegation fund.

The meeting then adjourned.

The committee appointed by this body of operatives, at their recent meeting, to revise the scale of prices, &c., report, that in pursuance of the object for which they were appointed, they waited upon the employers, who treated them in a very gentlemanly manner, and after examining the proposed list, consented to its adoption, thereby relieving the trade from two great evils, that of an oppressive discount and a variable list of prices. Such conduct on the part of the employers is deserving of great praise, and if practised by manufacturers generally, would be productive of much good.

PRESENTATION OF A FREE CAP.—On Thursday evening last, a beautiful fire cap was presented to Assistant Engineer Moses Jackson, as a token of respect and esteem, by his numerous friends and associates of the Fire Department. The ceremony came off at the Utah Honse, Eighth avenue, and the presentation was made by Capt. Sievenson, of the Sixteenth ward police, who, on presenting it, delivered a complimentary address, to which Mr. Jackson briefly responded in appropriate terms. The cap is an elegant specimen of workmanship. It has seventy-four combs, and on the back part there is a sliver plate, on which is inscribed the names of the doners. There was a large number of persons present, who heartily responded to the sentiments uttered during the evening.

Gas Company Brightening up — It must have been very graitlying to the public in witnessing the street lamps lighted in proper season last evening. The contrast was very remarkable from Sunday evening, when the streets were as dark as pitch. We are pleased to see the gas company awake to a sense of duty due the people, and hope it will be continued on all occasions when required. The moonshine does very well on clear nights, but in heavy cloudy weather the gas lights are absolutely necessaty.

An Old New Yorker Bound for Australia—Many of our old citizens will recollect the Rev. Mr. Mortimer, for many years the Pastor of the Moravian Church which formerly stood in Fulton street. His son, Mr. Benjamin Mortimer, is about en barking for Melbourne, in Australia, in the bark Nimrod. He will make an effort to introduce the New York School system in that far off continent, and will also act as general agent for the introduction of useful and approved American inventions.

Sektousky Injured —On Sunday afternoon, a man named Lawrence Henry was found in the street grossly intoxicated and bleeding from a severe wound in the head, which appeared to have been inflicted with a charp instrument. He was taken to the Twentieth ward police station, where the wound was dreaved by Dr. Hardenbrook. It is supposed that he was attacked by rowdies, who, after indicting the injury, let him to his fate.

Attempt to Commi Stille —About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a young German, whose name was not ascertained, residing in the rear of No, 101 Reade street, attempted to take his life by shooting himself with a revolver. The ball fired from the pistol entered the head, immediately over the right eye, and inflicted a frightful and it is thought fatal wound. The report of the pistol was heard by Officer Kinney. Of the Third ward police, who hastened to the soch, and would have conveyed

FIRST APPEARANCE OF THE CHOLEBA .- We learn from the Weldon, N. C., Pairiot, of the 19th inst., that from the Weldon, N. C., Pairiot, of the 19th inst., that this dreadful disease is raging up the river, between that place and Gaston, to a considerable extent. The Raisigh papers say that seven deaths have occurred; but they at-tribute the disease to cating spelled systems.

Last sreaing this fair advocate for the rights of her sex delivered her first lecture on the above subject, at Metropolitas Hall. In spite of the rain which inaundated our city previous to the hour of meeting, a tolerably numerous audience was present; but certainly not sufficient to render a lecture of this description a proditable investment. At the time appointed, Miss Stone, escorted by a few ladies and geatlemen, made her appearance, attired in a plain black bloomer costume, and said:—The subject which has brought us together is one upon which people maintain a variety of views, for there are as many different opinions as there are individuals before me in reference to it. I ask you to ferget the opinions you have held for one brief hour, in order for me to give utterance to mine, which, if you do not find worthy, reject them. This came is not to array the interest of men and women gainst each other. It is not to rob men of their rights and give them to women. An idea prevails that woman has a sphere distinct and peculiar to herself, but the world's history shows that there has never yet been anything in the nature of wo man upon which her sphere has been based, because it has always differed, in every age and country. Go, for example, among Eastern antions, and there a weman is regarded as until to meet in a place of worship or sit at table with her family. We do not propose by come to the subject of the rich, and to the houses where affluence and wealth abound, and make them know that when God gave woman her mission, he never meant her to sit down in utter idinence while others, can their breach. We want to the family hile and to the houses where affluence and wealth abound, and make them know that when God gave woman her mission, he never meant her to sit down in utter idinence while others, and breathers and the brother. The Social Duties of the Irish in America.

A lecture on this subject was delivered last evening, in the raperiments, was most unfavorable the attendance was very numerous. The platform was occupied by several Roman Catholi clergymen and the personal friends of the lecturer. Mr. McGee commenced by stating the subject of his discourse, and then entered into a long dissertation on the effects of the vast emigration from Ireland to the United States. The popular conviction in this country, said he, appears to be that the first generation of Irish emigrants will die out, and that their characteristics, moral and social, will become extinct with them; that their children, by the mere fact of having been born upon the soil, will be true and perfect Americans; but, he continued, instead of this, I believe the American character is at present, only in process of formation, that the career of this country is all in the future, and that those emigrants sit by the very fountain of American nationality. I don't believe anything so dishonarble or degrading as that the Irish of the first generation having died out, the moral and intellectual characteristics of the nation will be buried with them in their graves. On the contrary I believe that the future character of the white natives of North America is to be decided largely by the question, how far the I rish element shall enter into the composition of the American character, or escape in the process of its formation? I believe it will be partly Irish as well as English, German and French—that is my view of the future of this country, and I would wish it to be the view of all my countrymer, because it is necessary that they should Eknow the important part they have to perform as citizens of this great republic. After an extended consideration of this great republic after a considered the duties of Inishemen in the United States. I conceive, raid he, the duty of the Irish emigrant is to undo so far as it is possible, in one life time, the artificial defects a strict of the country, which had it formation that the process of the country, which had it formation of his country, which had it formation the reputation of his country, which had it formation to the country, which had it formation to the country of the country, which had it formation to the country of the
